

A game is a cinematic show such as a play with giving controls to players or users to control some or all of the game objects.

Two fundamental ideas

Strategy game and Simulation games